The Katsu Gala is a very special event because its about Kyokushin match-making fights in a ring, just like kickboxing. Every fighter will put on a 3x2 minutes fight against 1 opponent of the same calibre.

The fun part about this event is that champions from different karate organisations can find out who really is the best.

Also the atmosphere is how it has to be on every sports event. RESPECT from and for each other, from the supporters and to the supporters. A lot of other sports can take an example of this.

The matches are being fought under the Kyokushin rules.
